Interactive comment on “Aqueous-phase photochemical oxidation and direct photolysis of vanillin – a model compound of methoxy-phenols from biomass burning” by Y. J. Li et al.

J. Smith
jdsmith@ucdavis.edu

Received and published: 5 November 2013

I am very excited about this paper and the information presented. I do have a quick question about your experimental conditions. What was the pH these experiments were conducted at?

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., 13, 27641, 2013.