Interactive comment on “Ice melt, sea level rise and superstorms: evidence from paleoclimate data, climate modeling, and modern observations that 2 °C global warming is highly dangerous” by J. Hansen et al.

J. Hansen et al.
jeh1@columbia.edu

Received and published: 13 October 2015

We agree. There is merit in having all groups run the same numerical experiments with the same assumptions – but the range of results thus obtained may not contain the real world response.

C7914

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., 15, 20059, 2015.